

Table of Contents

| | |
|--|-----------|
| A Practical Guide to the Pronunciation of Standard Tibetan | xi |
| Introduction | 1 |
| TIBETAN DEVELOPMENTS IN BUDDHIST LOGIC | 35 |
| I. The Reception of Indian Logic in Tibet | 37 |
| 1. Introduction..... | 37 |
| 2. Four periods | 42 |
| 3. Indian sources for Tibetan Tshad ma | 45 |
| 4. The triply characterized logical reason (trirūpahetu) in Tibet..... | 48 |
| 5. The goodness and badness of reasons for Dignāga, Dharmakīrti, and Tibetans | 55 |
| 6. Certainty, formal matters, and the dGe lugs–Sa skya debate on similar instances..... | 59 |
| 7. Deviant logic? The tetralemma and the law of double negation elimination in Tibetan Madhyamaka..... | 68 |
| 8. Semantic issues: Indians and Tibetans on referential opacity and intensional entities | 73 |
| 9. A theme for further investigation: Meinong in Tibet? | 80 |
| II. Indigenous Tibetan Logic: Collected Topics and the Logic of Consequences | 83 |
| 1. Introduction, history, and texts | 83 |
| 2. The rules of the game | 88 |
| 3. Two sorts of consequences | 94 |
| 4. Why use consequences rather than triply characterized reasons? The problem of nonexistent subject terms and āśrayāsiddha | 99 |
| 5. Pervasion in the Tibetan debate logic and in Dharmakīrti ... | 102 |
| 6. Other formal aspects of the logic of consequences: quantification and variables..... | 103 |

| | |
|---|------------|
| 7. The logic of consequences used like a logic of propositions..... | 106 |
| 8. Several types of pervasions and their interrelationships | 108 |
| 9. Ex falso sequitur quodlibet | 111 |
| 10. Modal logic? No thank you | 112 |
| 11. Semantic problems: count nouns, mass nouns, and translatability..... | 114 |
| Appendix: Chinese influence? | 135 |
| FORAYS INTO THE PHILOSOPHY OF THE MIDDLE | 139 |
| III. Two Tibetan Texts on the “Neither One nor Many” Argument for śūnyatā | 141 |
| Translation of a chapter of the sKabs dang po'i spyi don | 145 |
| An excerpt from Tsong kha pa's dBu ma rgyan gyi zin bris | 156 |
| Tibetan text of the selection from the sKabs dang po'i spyi don | 165 |
| Tibetan text of the excerpt from dBu ma rgyan gyi zin bris | 170 |
| IV. Le dBu ma'i byung tshul de Śākya mchog ldan | 175 |
| Appendice | 181 |
| Traduction | 183 |
| Texte | 197 |
| V. Tsong kha pa et al. on the Bhāviveka-Candrakīrti Debate | 203 |
| Appendix: The Avalokitavrata-dGe lugs pa interpretation of Bhāviveka's charge of sāvakāśavacanaṭva and siddhāntavirodha | 220 |
| VI. Mādhyamikas Playing Bad Hands: The Case of Customary Truth | 223 |
| VII. A Comparative Philosophy Excursus: Deflating the Two Images and the Two Truths | 235 |
| Postscript | 256 |
| ASPECTS OF INDIGENOUS GRAMMATICO-LINGUISTIC THOUGHT | 259 |
| VIII. On bdag , gzhan , and the Supposed Active-passive Neutrality of Tibetan Verbs..... | 261 |

| | |
|---|-----|
| Appendix: a more detailed look at Nicolas Tournadre's argument for the absence of active-passive diathesis in Tibetan | 275 |
| IX. Transitivity, Intransitivity, and tha dad pa Verbs in Traditional Tibetan Grammar..... | 279 |
| Setting the stage: a dense passage from Si tu Paṅ chen | 280 |
| Unpacking tha dad pa-tha mi dad pa and other synonymous traditional classifications of verbs | 281 |
| Transitivity à la Hopper and Thompson | 288 |
| Appendix: On the use of tha (mi) dad pa in the Tibetan-Chinese Dictionary | 290 |
| X. gSer tog Blo bzang tshul khriṃs rgya mtsho on Tibetan Verb Tenses..... | 291 |
| XI. On the Assimilation of Indic Grammatical Literature into Indigenous Tibetan Scholarship..... | 301 |
| Tantric influences upon the Sum cu pa and rTags kyi 'jug pa | 304 |
| bdag, gzhan, and dngos po | 310 |
| XII. The Chapter on bdag, gzhan, and bya byed las gsum from the Commentary of gSer tog Blo bzang tshul khriṃs rgya mtsho on the Sum cu pa and rTags kyi 'jug pa | 325 |
| Tibetan text | 366 |
| References and Abbreviations..... | 383 |
| Index..... | 417 |