Contents

Preface ......................................................................................................................... 9

I. The Çukuriçi Höyük Research Project
   by Barbara Horejs ................................................................. 11
   I.1. The Site and its Investigation ........................................... 11
   I.2. Çukuriçi Höyük Stratigraphy and Settlements ...................... 16
   I.3. Results ........................................................................ 18
   I.4. List of Publications on Çukuriçi Höyük and Related Topics ......... 21

II. The Onset of Pressure Blade Making in Western Anatolia in the 7th Millennium BC:
   A Case Study from Neolithic Çukuriçi Höyük
   by Bogdana Milić – Barbara Horejs ........................................ 27
   II.1. Research Background .................................................. 28
   II.2. The Appearance of Pressure Blade Making in Anatolia .......... 29
   II.3. ‘News from the West’ – The Neolithic Site of Çukuriçi Höyük ........ 31
   II.4. Pressure Blade Making at Çukuriçi Höyük ....................... 32
   II.5. Aspects of Regional Integrity – Dealing with Unpublished Data Sets from Neolithic Sites of the Izmir Region .................................... 38
   II.6. Pressure Technique for Blade Making in Anatolia during the 7th Millennium BC .. 40
   II.7. Discussion .................................................................... 42
   II.8. Conclusion .................................................................... 46

III. Western Anatolian Impact on Aegean Figurines and Religion ?
    by Christoph Schwall – Barbara Horejs ...................................... 53
    III.1. Evidence of Marble Figurines at Çukuriçi Höyük .................. 54
    III.2. The Appearance and Development of Schematic Figurines in Western Anatolia . . 57
    III.3. Discussion .................................................................... 66

IV. Commonalities in Craft through Contacts? Textile Production in the 4th and 3rd Millennia in Western Anatolia
    by Christopher Britsch – Barbara Horejs ...................................... 79
    IV.1. Measuring Essentials – The Methods ................................. 81
    IV.2. Results of the Statistical Analyses ..................................... 81
    IV.3. Connecting Commonalities and Differences ......................... 84
    IV.4. Discussion .................................................................... 89
    IV.5. Conclusion .................................................................... 90

V. Continuity and Change in an Early Bronze Age 1 Metal Workshop
   by Barbara Horejs – Stefan Grashöck – Maria Rücklinger ............... 95
   V.1. Multifunctional Architecture and Usage at Çukuriçi –
       Insights into a Special Room ................................................ 96
   V.2. Intra-Site Analyses and the Pottery Assemblage of Room 18 ........ 108
   V.3. Conclusion ................................................................. 116
VI. Social Dynamics and the Development of New Pottery Signatures at Çukuriçi Höyük, 7th to 3rd Millennium BC

by Lisa Peloschek .......................................................... 125

VI.1. Site Formation Processes and the Archaeological Record .................. 126
VI.2. Regional Geology and Raw Material Resources ............................... 127
VI.3. Clay Pastes of Çukuriçi Höyük in a Diachronic Perspective ............... 129
VI.4. Interpreting Clay Paste Variability from the Neolithic to EBA I Periods .. 132
VI.5. Conclusion ........................................................................ 135

List of Authors ............................................................................. 138